

Eye of the Hunt

Limited Edition Fine Art Photography

There are photographs that document a moment, and then there are those that invite you into it.

On a rain-soaked morning in Mala Mala Game Reserve, South Africa, I found myself lying flat on the floor of our safari vehicle, cradling a large telephoto lens only inches above the earth. It was the only way to create the perspective I had envisioned. I didn't want you looking down at this magnificent female leopard. I wanted you to feel as though you were sharing the ground beneath her feet.

As she emerged from the bush and walked quietly toward me, the world seemed to disappear. The soft light left behind by the rain revealed every detail of her coat while her unwavering gaze carried the quiet confidence that has made leopards one of Africa's most revered predators. For just a few unforgettable seconds, there was no vehicle, no photographer, and no distance between us.

Photographed in South Africa's world-renowned Mala Mala Game Reserve, Eye of the Hunt is offered as a Limited Edition museum-grade acrylic print, created for collectors who appreciate exceptional wildlife photography, African safari fine art, and luxury statement artwork. Every piece is handcrafted to showcase remarkable depth, extraordinary detail, and archival permanence, transforming one of nature's most powerful encounters into a timeless work of art.

Available exclusively in Limited Edition from 24×36 through 48×72 inches.
